

HOW HOMEBYME SAVED STEVE AND JENNY'S DINNER PARTY

Steve and Jenny have just been reminded that they offered to host a dinner party.

Our home just isn't ready to host our families.

Why don't we remodel the living room – it was always the plan for when we moved in.

They debate the pros and cons.

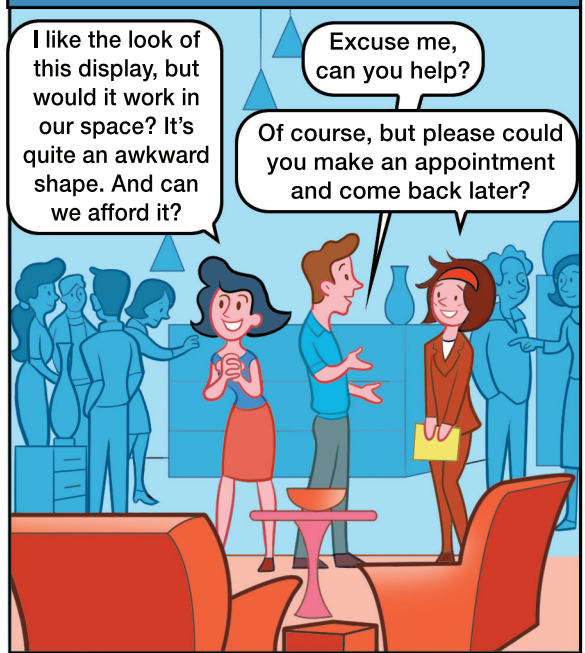

There isn't time.

We have a few weeks – that should work if we're efficient. But what about the budget?

We might be able to find some discounts.

It needs to look perfect. Let's go to the GoodHomes showroom and speak to an expert.

At the GoodHomes showroom, it's very crowded.

I like the look of this display, but would it work in our space? It's quite an awkward shape. And can we afford it?

Excuse me, can you help?

Of course, but please could you make an appointment and come back later?

They are on their way out when they meet Gia.

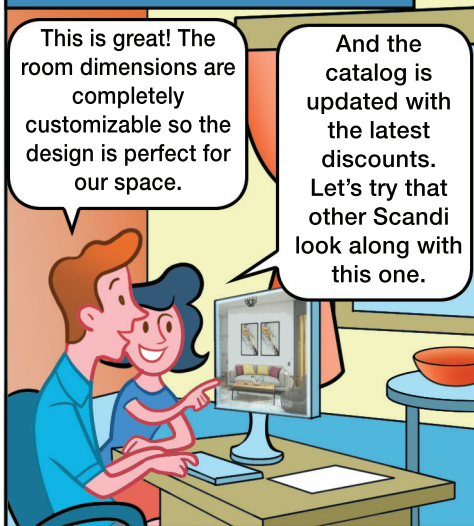

What's the matter, Jenny? You look upset.

Planning a home redesign is hard! I'm feeling really overwhelmed.

Why don't you try the online 3D planning solution of AmazingHomes instead? You can create your room in minutes using the catalog – with pricing and planning rules all built in – and then purchase online. I designed my entire living room at home and I've just been in to discuss my plan with the sales team before confirming the order.

Back in the apartment, Steve and Jenny are on the platform.

This is great! The room dimensions are completely customizable so the design is perfect for our space.

And the catalog is updated with the latest discounts. Let's try that other Scandi look along with this one.

They are holding a printout of two room renders.

Both of these options look perfect and fit within our budget! I'm so excited.

I would quite like a professional to give them a once over. Let's head to the store tomorrow and get everything finalized.

At the AmazingHomes showroom

That looks perfect, you have done a great job with the designs. I'd suggest this tweak, it will be more convenient for you.

Great!

That's all sorted. Congratulations, and expect delivery within the week!

One week later...

The apartment looks absolutely gorgeous. You two must have an eye for design!

Thank you, 3D planning solution!